

Beyond the Chains

VERSE

You heard my cry and came to rescue me
My heart was locked away, You held the only key You brought me out so You could bring me in
You closed the prison door, I won't go back again
Fear and shame that had me bound now lay shattered on the ground
Self-defeat once held me down but now I'm free

CHORUS

Beyond the chains
You spoke my name
And showed me more than freedom
And loved me without reason
Beyond the chains
The scars remain
Reminding me that I am not the same
Beyond the chains

VERSE

Surrounded by my own captivity by walls that I had built, by lies that I believed
But when my world fell apart
Your grace rushed in and pulled my heart from where I was to where You are and now I'm free

BRIDGE

Free to sail on open seas of endless possibilities
Now I'm free to love and free to live

Words and Music by Jeff Bumgardner and David Moffitt © 2014
Sunset Gallery Music/BMI and Universal Music - Brentwood Benson Publishing/ASCAP - TimeChange
Music/ASCAP